

Semantic Parameters and Universals

Prof. Dr. Sigrid Beck

Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen

In this talk, I explore the field's findings in the area of semantic variation. The different components of the grammar are considered that contribute to the compositional calculation of meaning. I propose that each such component has a stable core and other, crosslinguistically variable areas.